8:00  Trends in Raising Capital, Angel Resource Institute pre-program - via separate registration
(PONTCHARTRAIN)

Robert Okabe, RPX Group and Angel Resource Institute

This seminar presents the latest trends in angel investing and venture capital, including trends in best practices for analyzing the capital raising environment, meeting investor expectations, and current preferences in valuation methodologies and deal structuring. There are many ways to do a deal, but the key is to have the right data and knowledge to do the right deal. This workshop strips away the opinions and anecdotes and gets straight to the information you need to make better investment decisions.

Angel investing is changing. Reflecting this, angel groups are changing. How do we best tap into these changes and build stronger angel groups? Research demonstrates that diverse teams produce better results. We also know that there are more and more demands on our members. In this interactive session we will explore the full range of diversity opportunities and alternative angel group structures. We will develop concrete steps to increase membership diversity build more engaged members within our groups.
Marcia Dawood, Golden Seeds & BlueTree Allied Angels
Todd Federman, North Coast Angel Fund
Ken Gatz, ProSeeder Technologies
Audrey Jacobs, OurCrowd
Tony Shipley, Queen City Angels
With so many avenues available to invest angel dollars, how do you know which is the best option or options for you? Many angel groups have either a larger fund or a sidecar fund, should you opt in? And what about these platforms - AngelList, OurCrowd, etc. - should you also be investing using a vehicle like this? These questions and many others related to the options available to angels today will be explored. During the session we will create a list of pros and cons for each method.

2:45
Accessing Capital and Deals Online – Not All Platforms Are Created Equal (MARDI GRAS)
Audrey Jacobs, OurCrowd
There is much confusion about equity crowdfunding – where startups can raise real capital online and angels can expand their deal flow beyond the bike ride. Learn who the major players are, how they're structured and the costs and benefits for the entrepreneur and the investor.

ORLEANS  Using Metrics to Increase Returns and Build Your Group
John Huston, Ohio TechAngels
Loretta McCarthy, Golden Seeds
Rick Timmins, Central Texas Angel Network
Of all the metrics we track and report to our angel groups, which ones are the most effective in attracting and retaining members plus elevating our investment returns? Panelists from two of the ACA’s most successful angel groups will relate their experiences with leveraging metrics. The session will conclude with a fifteen minute brainstorming session so attendees can provide their own insights, and the resulting comprehensive list of “Best Metrics” will be published.

MARDI GRAS  Building Exits and Liquidity
Scott Whittaker, Stone Pigman Walther Wittmann LLC
Angela Jackson, Portland Seed Fund
Ken Kousky, BlueWater Angels
Catherine Mott, BlueTree Allied Angels
Join us for a lively discussion about liquidity options. Beyond the typical Merger or Acquisition scenario, there are other options for sophisticated angel investors to consider. We will discuss the various ways investors can structure Redemption Rights and Demand Dividends, plus the alternative investment vehicle of Revenue Sharing Financing or Royalty Financing. We will also discuss successful exits upon funding from follow-on equity rounds, or via a mezzanine round. Other methods: secondary market, Reg A+ and IPO.

Universities are an excellent source of novel technologies and, therefore, are a potential source for deal flow for angels and angel groups. This session will explore the relationship between universities and angels through a panel discussion followed by two breakout sessions. One breakout session will focus on angel funds that are attached to universities, how these funds operate and best practices. The other session will focus on the issues that need to be addressed in order to establish a mutually beneficial and successful relationship between universities and angels.
Evolution of an Angel Network to Include a Sidecar Fund

Mike Eckert, NO/LA Angel Network
Jim Connor, Sand Hill Angels
Matt Dunbar, Upstate Carolina Angel Network
Curtis Gunn, Desert Angels
Tony Shipley, Queen City Angels

Many angel networks face the challenges of balancing committed capital with ad hoc deal-specific capital, with balancing the needs of passive and those of active investors, with generating sufficient capital to lead or adequately fund an investing round and with the speed of their deal processes. Certain angel networks have found a solution to these challenges by creating sidecar funds to complement their networks’ deal process activities. A panel of four network leaders who have successfully implemented sidecar funds will share their insights what will be an enlightening exchange of lessons learned.

12:30 Luncheon and Keynotes – Diversity is the Rule, Not the Exception (BAYOU 1-4)
